COLONEL ASSAILS WILSON'S RECORD

Former President Roosevelt Urges Election of Charles E. Hughes

RECEIVES WILD OVATION

Refers to European Policy, Particularly in Lusitania Case as "Humiliating and Ignoble"

DISCUSSES ADAMSON BILL

BATDE CREEK, Mich., Sept. 30.—Speaking to a crowd which filled a huge circus tent here this afternoon, Theodore Roosevelt assailed the administrative record of President Wilson and urged the election of Charles Evans Hughes.

When the former president entered the tent to make his first Michigan speech on behalf of the Republican candidate for president he was given a wild ovation. Roosevelt swung into the presidential election four years ago. Climb on a table on the speaker's platform, the colonel read his prepared address, which was devoted almost entirely to an attack on President Wilson's foreign and Mexican policies and the latter's support of the Adamson hour day bill.

Roosevelt declared that President Wilson's chief policy was the policy of vacillation. The European policy of President Wilson, particularly in the Lusitania case, was referred to as "humiliating and ignoble."

The Mexican record of the executive was called "dishonorable to ourselves, and infamous from the standpoint of humanity."

Discussing the Adamson bill, Mr. Roosevelt charged that President Wilson, in urging passage of the measure by congress "took his orders from that one of the parties which he most feared."

"We have seen in this country a things more discreditable to our representatives and more ominous for the future of the nation than the spectacle of the president and congress of the United States being required to pass a certain bill before a certain hour at the dictation of men, who sat in the gallery watching their watches in their hands, waiting ruin and disaster to the nation if there was the smallest failure to satisfy their demands," Mr. Roosevelt said.

The colonel referred to the torpedoing of the Lusitania by a German submarine as "the most colossal instance of the murder of innocents, including men, women and children that had been perpetrated by any power calling itself civilized, for over a century."

"I have been asked what I would have done if I had been president when the Lusitania was torpedoed," should the speaker. "I would have instantly taken possession of every German ship in this country and then I would have said: 'Now we will discuss, not what we will give, but what we will give back.' This utterance received wild applause."

When he began his attack on the Adamson bill, Col. Roosevelt declared that any increase of wages and not the eight hour day, was the real issue.

"Let President Wilson apply that sacred eight hour day law to the servants in the White House and see how far he'll get," said Roosevelt. "I believe in the eight hour day as the general rule toward which we must strive but I recognize that special needs must be met in special industries and that in all such cases there must be a very careful consideration of all the consequences before final action is taken."

Roosevelt closed his address with a plea for the election of Charles Hughes. He urged the voters to repudiate Mr. Wilson because of doing so they save themselves from that kind of gross selfishness and cowardice which we owe to Mr. Wilson's substitutions of spot election for straight forward vote.

BENJAMIN W. WRIGHT DIED AT HOSPITAL SATURDAY

Deceased a Respected Citizen of Murrayville Community—Had Spent Entire Life There.

Death came to Benjamin W. Wright of Murrayville at Passavant hospital Saturday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock. Mr. Wright was brought from his home in Murrayville to the hospital last Sunday. Subsequently an operation was performed and it was revealed that the patient's condition was very serious. He continued to grow worse and the end which came Saturday had been anticipated by relatives and near friends.

Mr. Wright had spent his entire life in Murrayville and was born near there November 28, 1858, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Wright, who were numbered among the early residents of Morgan county. After completing his education Mr. Wright taught school for some time and then subsequent to his marriage to Miss Mollie Strang, daughter of C. F. Strang, engaged in farming. Their farm was in the Greasy Prairie neighborhood and it was the family home until 1893, when they removed to Murrayville. There Mr. Wright engaged in the implement business with Edgar L. Whitlock as his partner. This partnership continued for about ten years, when Mr. Wright sold his interest in order to enter upon his duties as postmaster. He served very efficiently in this position, retiring from the work about two years ago. Since that time Mr. Wright has engaged in the insurance business and paid some attention to farming.

The deceased had long taken an active interest in the affairs of Murrayville M. E. church and had been identified with all movements in recent years looking toward the rebuilding of his home community. He was properly classed as one of the good and useful citizens of Murrayville. He walked uprightly and dealt honestly with his fellowmen. And as he closed his life's journey he has left to his family the heritage of a good name.

Mr. Wright is survived by his wife, four sons and four daughters. They are Mrs. Grace Russell, wife of Sinclair Russell, and Mrs. Maude Spahnower, wife of Bert Spahnower, both of Mapes, North Dakota; Mrs. Pearl Doyle, wife of Thomas Doyle of Murrayville, and Miss Mildred Wright, who resides at home; Carey, John, Warren and Benjamin Wright, Jr., all of Murrayville. The deceased also leaves three brothers, Capt. John E. Wright of Jacksonville; James L. Wright of Harrisonville, Mo., and Cyrus N. Wright of Murrayville. Three sisters preceded him in death, Mrs. William Hughes, Mrs. John R. Hill and Mrs. Emma Rimbey, and two surviving him are Mrs. James Cunningham and Mrs. Jane Ash, both of Murrayville.

The remains were taken by ambulance to Murrayville and the funeral will be held at the Methodist church there Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in charge of Rev. C. S. McCullum, now of Payson and until recently pastor of the Murrayville church. Interment will be in Murrayville cemetery with services in charge of the I. O. O. F.

Mr. Roy Ickes of the Hudson Motor Car Co., Detroit, will be identified with R. T. Cassell as salesman for Hudson and Studebaker cars. Mr. Ickes will also look after the supply of accessories department of that concern which is growing very rapidly. Mr. Ickes comes well recommended from the Hudson company where he has spent three years in the construction of Hudson cars and several years as road salesman. Mr. Cassell has taken the agency for the Savage fire, made at San Diego, Cal., and it is a very popular medium priced fire, carrying a guarantee of 4,500 miles. TEUTONS GAIN VICTORY OVER ROUMANIANS

CENTRAL TRANSYLVANIA INVADERS CRUSHED BETWEEN TWO FORCES

Invaders Reported as Fleeing to the Mountains in Disorder After Suffering Heavy Losses—Strategy of Gen. Von Falkenhayn Wins Victory.

Troops of the Central Powers, under Gen. von Falkenhayn, former chief of the German general staff, have gained a decisive victory over the Rumanian invaders of Central Transylvania. The Rumanians were crushed between two forces in a battle which raged for three days. After suffering heavy losses, the invaders are reported fleeing in disorder into the mountains.

The defeat of the Rumanians was brought about by a strategic move virtually impossible on the western battle front. General von Falkenhayn divided his force of Germans and Austro-Hungarians. While one body engaged the invaders around Hermannstadt, the other encircled the Rumanians and seized Rosenthalburg Pass in the mountains, 15 miles southeast of Hermannstadt, and one of the first points gained by the Rumanians in their advance.

Both forces then pressed in upon the Rumanians, composed of sections of the First Rumanian army. Bavarian troops holding Rosenthalburg checked an advance by the Second Rumanian army, which attempted to come to the aid of its surrounded compatriots. Berlin reports that a large amount of booty was taken as well as prisoners.

In eastern Transylvania, the Rumanians also suffered a repulse. Their attack in the region of Szekely Udvahilly was checked and a German attack in the same section resulted in the capture of 600 prisoners.

Fighting continues on the Somme front but with little change in the positions of the combatants. The Germans continue their counter attacks around Thiepval. Further south the French have made an advance north of Rancourt, driving their wedge in the German lines there. Berlin reports the repulse of British attacks on this front.

During September the British in the advance on the Somme front lost almost 120,000 officers and men. This is at the rate of 3,800 a day, but falls below the daily human cost for August. Since the offensive began, figures published in London show that the British have lost approximately 300,000 men in their efforts to break the German defenses. No important changes in Macedonia, in Dobruja on the Austro-Italian front or in the Eastern front are announced.

SHOPMEN REFUSE PROPOSALS OF TWENTY WESTERN RAILROADS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 30.—A vote to strike has been carried in the referendum of 40,000 members of the six shopmen's union on twenty western railroads it was announced tonight by union officers in session here. The carrying of the vote means that the men have refused the proposals of the railroads, but does not imply an immediate walkout. A new basis of agreement over the men's demands for an 8 hour day and a five cent per hour increase in wages will be sought.

HUGHES ENDS SECOND CAMPAIGN TRIP

REPUBLICAN NOMINEE MAKES THIRTEEN SPEECHES SATURDAY

Assails Administration for Its Attitude Toward the Development of American Business Abroad.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Charles E. Hughes in speeches at Jamestown late today and here tonight, assailed the administration for its attitude toward the development of American business abroad. Mr. Hughes cited in support of his attack the failure of American bankers to obtain government support of their plan to participate in the proposed six power loan to China and the administration's Mexican policy.

"It is said by the administration that they desire to open the door for American enterprise," Mr. Hughes said. "That is the inducement for our merchants and business men to go to foreign countries and engage in American enterprises if they and their investments are treated as our citizens and their property were permitted to be treated in Mexico."

Proposed participation by American bankers in the loan to China was characterized by Mr. Hughes as "a matter of great moment to the nation because it permitted an opportunity not only to aid China but to facilitate our trade."

Mr. Hughes' address here completed his second presidential campaign trip. It was the thirteenth of the day, most of the others being brief platform talks. At Jamestown the nominee took the trolley to Dunkirk speaking at Westfield en route. He left here at midnight for New York and is due to arrive there at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow.

WILSON DENOUNCES REPUBLICAN PARTY

Addresses Delegation of Democrats from New York at Shadow Lawn

FIRST POLITICAL SPEECH

States G. O. P. Success Means "We Shall Be Drawn Into Embroilments of European War"

OUTLINES DEMOCRATIC POLICY

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Sept. 30.—In a vigorous denunciation of the Republican party, President Wilson today told a delegation of young Democrats from New York that "the certain prospect" of Republican success in November is "that we shall be drawn in one form or another into the embroilments of European war," and that the forces of the United States will be used to produce in Mexico the kind of law and order which some investors in Mexico consider most to their advantage.

The president made his first out and out political speech of the campaign from the porch of Shadow Lawn. Urged on by the enthusiastic cheers and waving banners of several thousand young men, he assailed the Republican party and laid down the issues on which he believes the campaigns should be fought.

"Am I not right that we must draw the conclusion that if the Republican party is put into power at the next election our foreign policy will be radically changed?" he asked. "I cannot draw any other inference. All our present foreign policy is wrong, they say, and if it is wrong and they are men of conscience they must change it. And if they are going to change it, in what direction are they going to change it? There is only one choice as against peace and that is war."

Charging that Republicans take the counsel of "those who have higherto acted as the counselors of the vested interests in Mexico" the president declared that these men had tried to get what they wanted from him, but had failed and "now are going where they think they can get it."

Still discussing the foreign affairs of the country President Wilson stated that on account of the political uses made of foreign relations "it is going to be practically impossible for the present administration to handle any critical matter concerning our foreign relations, because all foreign statesmen are waiting to see which way the election goes, and in the meantime they know that settlements will be inconclusive."

In front and below the president were young democrats who came here from New York on special trains and marched with bands playing and banners waving more than a mile to Shadow Lawn. The president praised the Progressive Party as having "the real blood of human sympathy in its veins" and declared the Democratic party had done things the Progressives wanted done.

Again attacking the Republican party he said, lieutenants of Mark Hanna have returned to authority and determine the policy of the Republican party.

Outlining the program of the Democratic party, Mr. Wilson said it had begun the process of "liberalization" for the business of this country and "it intends to strengthen that system at every point, extend it at every point, extend it wherever it needs extension."

He referred briefly to the federal reserve act, the tariff commission act, the trade commission and other laws passed by the Democrats, charging that "until the present administration, Wall Street controlled the actions of the treasury of the United States."

Always Opposed Woman Suffrage.
Lowell, (Mass.) Courier-Citizen:
President Wilson's statement to the American Woman Suffrage Association
at Atlantic City, "I have come here to fight with you," might be interpreted either way. According to the women who have represented this association in Washington all the year, the Democratic administration has been fighting the suffrage amendment from first to last.

Question Settled Itself.

"Regulating our jitneys" is the head line in an eastern paper. In most of the smaller cities the jitneys do not need regulating, for they have gradually been legislated or gone out of business thru other influences. So the black cloud which appeared on the horizon of the utility companies a year ago has faded away. At that time the transportation companies were seriously alarmed and in all parts of the country took the matter into court. Time has shown that they were too hasty and that the jitney problem would have settled itself if let alone without the expense and worry of court procedure.

"Suffer Little Children."

Words fitly spoken in ages long past.
When walking was one by blue
Galilee, Carry a meaning that ever shall
last,
"Suffer little children to come unto me."

"Suffer the children," this ever shall draw
Purest desires of the heart as it should,
Until all know there is no other
law,
Than the great law of our God
who is good.

Then to the homes of the lowly of birth,
Where hearts are drooping with
no ray of cheer,
Carry the message of Truth now on earth.
Tell the glad tidings Christ's kingdom is here.

Go ye with hope, not with fear and
with doom.
Remember our Prince, how sweet-
ly he smiled,
Destroy the germs and the
microbes of gloom,
And lift up the Christ to the heart of the child.
—S. Adrian Hughes.

Health Knowledge Grows.

"I am eighty-three years old and I ain't never seen a germ yet," was the statement of an old citizen in an adjoining county recently. It is said when the talk drifted into the dangers from tuberculosis and other communicable diseases. This instance was quoted yesterday as a bit of evidence to show that the educational work with reference to tuberculosis is by no means completed.
True, wonderful advances have been made in this regard in the past fifteen or twenty years and there are twenty people today who know something about the prevention of the disease where one had knowledge along the same line fifteen years ago. But there is still afforded a great opportunity for educational work in fighting the white plague and in this the local anti-tuberculosis society is doing a valuable service to the community.

Teaching the people the comparatively simple methods by which the disease may be prevented and can be cured if not too far advanced, results in economic saving in addition to the other benefits.

Truly a revolution is taking place in the public mind with reference to contagious and communicable diseases. A local physician said recently that the fact any disease is spread by contagion these days is a discredit to our learning and civilization. With the proper effort and proper study this contagion can be prevented, and the ideal public health status will be reached when as a result of investigation by physicians and scientists, and of practice and custom by the public, contagious and communicable diseases
have come under absolute control.

Fire Prevention Day.

October 9 has been set by Governor Dunne as Fire Prevention Day
in his proclamation issued recently.
The date is the 45th anniversary of the great Chicago fire. In his proclamation Gov. Dunne urges that the day be given over in all communities to programs that will tend to educate the people in the prevention of fire and accidents from the same.
He also urges that local authorities
give attention to building regulations and the inspection of wiring and the chimneys of public buildings. The inspection of hotels, factories, state institutions and theaters is suggested. It is also urged that fire drills be held in schools, factories and that the teachers instruct their pupils by short talks on the dangers of fires and accidents and tell some of the simpler methods of preventing the same. The agitation of fire prevention in Illinois and throughout the entire country the last few years has been productive

PRESIDENTIAL PRIVATE SECRETARIES HAVE IMPORTANT DUTIES

Representatives of the Position Have Increased With Passing Years—
Some of the Men Who Have Served in This Capacity.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—The opinion prevails in Washington that the nation's chief executive will be served by a new private secretary after March 4 next, regardless of whether Wilson or Hughes is the victor in the approaching election.
If Mr. Hughes is elected he will bring with him to Washington a man of his own selection from among the many efficient and eligible workers whose acquaintance he has made in the course of his public career. In the event of President Wilson's re-election it is regarded as a foregone conclusion that the present secretary Joseph P. Tumulty will voluntarily resign his position, to be succeeded by some other man of the President's choosing.

President Wilson has been served faithfully and efficiently by Mr. Tumulty and the relations between the two are of the most cordial nature.
If Mr. Tumulty resigns the position in the event of the President's re-election his act will be entirely voluntary. That it is his intention to retire from the position after March 4
next is the belief of all of Mr.
Tumulty's most intimate associates.

Time was when the position of private secretary to the President was more or less of a sinecure. In the early days of the republic, and even down to the administrations
of Hayes and Garfield and Arthur,
the duties of the President's private secretary consisted almost wholly of critical work of a more or less routine nature. But of late years the position has taken on a much greater importance, with a consequent increase of work and responsibility.

Nowadays the private secretary is the buffer that stands between the President and the public, or it might be said, the shock-absorber that protects the chief executive from the annoyances of disgruntled politicians and importunate persons of all sorts. It is inevitable that whoever holds the position must come in for some hard knocks. Among the dissatisfied element in official and unofficial circles in Washington, the habit of criticizing the President's private secretary is a popular indoor sport.

It is not considered likely that Secretary Tumulty will care to hold the position another four years. It is probable that if he resigned and the President was re-elected, he could obtain appointment to an equally remunerative and more desirable Federal position for the asking. Or, if he chose to return to private life, the prestige of his present position would go far toward landing him a "big" position in the world of finance or business.

President Wilson probably would select another New Jersey man if called upon to name a new private secretary. Mr. Hughes, if elected President, likewise would be expected to make his selection from New York state. It has been an almost unbroken rule for a President to select as his private secretary a citizen of his own state even since George Washington took Tobias Lear. Mr. Lear was a Virginian, a close friend and neighbor of General Washington. Thus Jefferson chose for that position Captain Merriweather Lewis of Virginia; Jackson, A.
J. Donelson, of Tennessee; Van Buren, John Van Buren of New York; Polk, John Knox Walker, of Tennessee; Taylor, Col. Bliss, of Kentucky; Fillmore, M. P. Fillmore, of New York; Pierce, Sidney Webster,
of New Hampshire; Buchanan, James Buchanan Henry of Pennsylvania; Lincoln, John N. Nicolay, of Illinois; Johnson, Robert Johnson,
of Tennessee; Grant, Robert Douglas, of Illinois; Hayes, W. K. Rogers
of Ohio; Garfield, J. Stanley Brown, of Ohio; Arthur, Fred J. Stanley, of New York; Cleveland, in his first administration, Dan Lamont, of New York, and Henry T. Thurberg, of Michigan, in his second administration; Harrison, E. J. Halford, of Indiana; McKinley, J. Addison Porter, of Ohio; Roosevelt, William Loeb,
Jr., of New York; Taft, Charles D.
Hilles, of Ohio; Wilson, Joseph P.
Tumulty, of New Jersey.

Several of these private secretaries afterward filled places of high distinction, some in public and some in private life. Tobias Lear represented the Government in diplomatic positions, concluding the treaty between the United States and the Barbary Powers. Lewis led the great exploring expedition to Oregon and was murdered while governor of Missouri Territory, in a lonely cabin in eastern Kentucky, while on his way to Washington. Lamont became a member of Cleveland's cabinet during his first term. Arthur and Loeb were made Co-adjutors of the Port of New York.

Rippling Rhymes By WALT MASON

FACING WINTER.

Prepare for winter, gentle reader;
put by the hoe and rake and seeder; the tool with which you mow the clover may rust a while, it's season's over. In storage put your trustworthy swatter, until the days again grow hotter. The goosebone seers as one are saying that winter won't be long delaying, and they insist when it's a comer, 'twill be an old time ring-talie hummer.
The signs all indicate a season prolonged and cold beyond all reason.
The moss upon the trees is thicker;
the woodland beasts are working quicker to lay in provender to last
them till springtime comes again, dodgast them. The so 'ward birds are flying faster, as though they scented some disaster. It is the goosebone seer who's spoken;
he has observed the sign and token, and says it's winter's coming early, and will be buster-ton and surly. So blow yourself with eager ardor, for coal and sundries for the larder; prepare all other labors dropping, and plan to do your Christmas shopping.

Use Newbro's Herpicide IN TIME AND YOU WILL NEVER NEED FALSE HAIR

Wearing false hair is a harmless deceit of which many ladies are guilty. These women are all objects for sympathy rather than criticism. Early neglect in the care of the scalp has caused the loss of so much hair that their personal appearance is sadly marred. To correct this defect they resort to artificial hair hoping by so doing to hide the results of their earlier inattention to the details of their toilet. These unfortunate are deceiving no one but themselves; no artificial hair no matter how costly, ever has the snap and luster nor can it be made to look as pretty and attractive as natural hair.

Most ladies would resent any imputation of personal carelessness and neglect. And yet very many permit their natural hair to become so dull, brittle and lusterless that it looks no better than that bought at the store. All this is an unfortunate as it is unnecessary. Hair that is unsightly or thin may usually be attributed to the destroying effects of Dandruff. This destructive formation shortly robs the hair of life, with the result that it finally loosens and drops out. There is a preparation, sold and guaranteed by all dealers, the intelligent use of which will kill the dandruff germ. It cleanses the scalp of all accumulations and makes the hair shine with the luster of life and beauty. That remedy is Newbro's Herpicide, the Original Germ-Killer. In no way can you add more to your personal charm and attractiveness than by the use of this remarkable and well-known scalp prophylactic. On account of its astonishing merit and its delightful and exquisite odor, Herpicide finds users everywhere among all classes. It may be purchased in 50 cent and $1.00 sizes at all drug stores and toilet goods counters. Applications may be obtained at the better barber shops and hair dressing parlors. Upon receipt of 10 cents in postage or silver to cover cost of packing and mailing, The Herpicide Co., Dept. S, Detroit, Mich., will send to any address a nice sample bottle of Herpicide and an interesting booklet on the care of the hair.

In addition to the work exhibited by Miss Knopf, Wallace DeWolfe will have twenty canvases in the exhibit.

JURY FINDS CLARENCE DALTON GUILTY ON ONE COUNT

Was On Trial Charged with Assault — New Trial Asked in Haxton Case.

The jury which heard the evidence in the case of Clarence Dalton, charged with assault on John Brittenstine, reached a verdict Saturday morning declaring the defendant guilty on one count. The jurors were kept in their room until late Friday night when by order of Judge Thomson they were taken to a hotel. Saturday morning when court convened again the jurors resumed their deliberations and were not long in reaching a verdict.

Argument was made in the county court Saturday afternoon before Judge Thomson on a motion for a new trial for Pete Haxton, recently convicted of bootlegging. John M. Butler and Paul Samuelli appeared on behalf of their client and State's Attorney Hairgrove for the people. Various authorities were cited and the argument continued for two hours or more, when a continuance was taken until next Wednesday. Mr. Butler brought forth various points in the record which he insisted constituted adequate ground for a new trial. Mr. Hairgrove was given further time in order to look up some authorities he wished to present to the court. Unless the record is shown to be free from error it is very likely that Judge Thomson will grant a new trial, for the case, it is understood, is to go to the appellate court.

At the completion of the program refreshments will be served and a social time enjoyed. The affair will be somewhat in the nature of a reception to give those interested in the local "Y" and its welfare an opportunity of meeting the new superintendent, Mr. Findley.

There should be a goodly number present to hear the stirring talks which will be made during the evening, and to those who are not familiar with the institution the evening will afford an opportunity to inspect the facilities at the place and become better acquainted with it.

MORGAN COUNTY TEACHERS ASSOCIATION ELECTS

Officers Chosen for the Year—Addresses Made By Mr. Perrin and Mr. Callihan.

The first meeting for this fall of the Morgan County Teachers' association was held Saturday afternoon at the high school building, with an unusually large attendance. The annual business session was held and addresses were made by H. A. Perrin, superintendent of schools, and T. W. Callihan, principal of the Jacksonville high school. A musical interest was given the program by two numbers by Miss Dorothy Hitt, Truman P. Carter, retiring president, president. The officers chosen are: President—Miss Bess Clark, Murfreesboro.

Vice President—Miss Anna English, Jacksonville. Secretary-treasurer—Miss Grace Stainforth, Concord.

Superintendent Perrin's theme was "The Qualities of the Successful Teacher." It was not a technical address but of a very practical and interesting kind. Mr. Perrin said that the success of a teacher in the classroom is judged by many things other than the mere conduct of recitations. "There is something about the atmosphere and attitude of a teacher who understands her work and succeeds with it that immediately impresses those who specialize in directing teaching work."

Principal Callihan emphasized the necessity of preparing high school students for some useful field of endeavor after they leave the school walls. "It is not enough to simply afford text-book lessons and the mental development which goes with the lessons but it must be remembered that a large percentage of high school pupils when they receive their diplomas enter almost immediately into active business life. It is, therefore, essential that a high school pupil leave the school on commencement day especially equipped along some line—that is, qualified to take a useful place in the community."

COL HARVEY COMES OUT FOR CANDIDATE HUGHES

FORMER FRIEND OF WILSON
CANNOT STAND FOR ADMINISTRATION MISTAKES.

In Article in North American Review Famous Newspaper Editor Assails Secretary Daniel's Methods of Handling the Navy—Wilson's Action in Pushing Adamson Law Criticized in Unmeasured Terms—Hughes' Clear Courageous Record As Governor is Cited.

New York, Sept. 30.—Col. Harvey, who was the first to propose Woodrow Wilson for president in 1906, and who strove unceasingly in his behalf until requested by the candidate in 1913 to stop for fear of offending the Bryanites, comes out squarely for Hughes in the forthcoming number of the North American Review. After reviewing the record of the administration in his usual trenchant fashion, Colonel Harvey continues:

The Living Issues.
It is neither the past nor the present but the immediate future, that should hold first place in the minds of American citizens at this critical time. Whether it was the President, the Kaiser or the good Lord who kept us out of war is of little moment. The seeming fact that whatever likelihood there may have been of our being drawn into the great conflict no longer exists suffices present needs. Only the most insane partisan would venture to suggest a possibility of either Mr. Wilson or Mr. Hughes exciting or inviting war with any European or Asiatic power. The total vital questions to be answered at the polls one month hence, are: Which of the two great parties at this particular juncture in our progress as a Nation, is the better equipped and the more likely to render the highest public service? and, Which of the two designated leaders is the more certain to "preserve, protect and defend" the constitution of the United States? Brushing aside, as well as we may at such a time, all minor considerations we find the overpowering issues to be:

1. Military and industrial preparedness.
 2. Government by and for the people.
 3. National honor and opportunity.
- Credit for the provision of military enlargement may fairly be apportioned evenly between the united opposition which, under the invigorating championship of Mr. Roosevelt, aroused a public sentiment which Mr. Wilson could not afford to ignore and the converted Administration itself, which finally, after losing two precious years, coerced a reluctant Congress into actual performance. Adequate funds have been provided at last and the programme adopted is pronounced satisfactory. But the mere appropriation of large sums of money does not suffice. The question now is one of celerity and efficiency in construction.

Daniels Opposed Great Navy.

Could Josephus Daniels build a great navy in the shortest possible time if he would? And would he if he could? These are the pregnant queries which rise inevitably in all thoughtful minds at a time when speed and skill are the prime requisites. That both must be answered decisively in the negative is, we believe, the universal judgment. Mr. Dr. Daniels has always been and in his heart is today opposed to adequate provision for defense. He has done everything in his power to prevent such provision from being made, never once failing, until driven recently into line by public opinion, to reduce estimates, to pigeon-hole or distort official recommendations and to cripple the service by arrogating to himself the power to make innumerable regulations petty in themselves but productive of infinite harm. He nodded sagely, when, sitting in the gallery of the House of Representatives, less than two years ago he heard his chief declare mistakenly, as since confessed by both words and deeds, that "we have not been negligent of national defense," and he gloried in the President's sneering statement since belied for political purposes, that "we shall not alter our attitude because some among us are nervous and excited." Simultaneously—i. e., in December, 1914—he himself in his official report was denouncing "this mad rivalry in construction" as constituting "a burden too heavy for any nation to bear." Meanwhile he was skimming in all directions and pottering away precious time. Not only has work not yet begun on two battleships authorized on March 3, 1915, but there is grave doubt whether the one allotted to the Mare Island yard can ever be sent to sea unless a new channel be dredged at a cost of $4,000,000 to accommodate a vessel of such draft and tonnage.

Recurring then, to our queries, we answer that Mr. Daniels has neither the skill nor the will to expend effectively the great sums of money to be drawn from the people by their express command for immediate protection. Once let him realize on November 7 that he is fixed irrevocably in authority for another four years, quick reversion will follow, obstacle will be piled upon obstacle, delay will succeed delay, our first line of defense, already gravely impaired, will be shattered and the navy itself from the highest active admiral to the humblest sailor, will raise hands to high Heaven in disgust and despair.

Favoritism Practiced.
Worst and most sinister of all is changes promotion by seniority to new method is preferable to that which prevailed under the unpopular Plucking Board we can readily believe. That it would prove advantageous, moreover, under the direction of a capable, honorable and unbiased secretary, is quite probable. But when one recalls the gross favoritism practiced during the past three years, the persistent demoting and humiliating of officers universally recognized as the most competent in the navy, the constant punishing of those impelled by a sense of duty to their country to speak the truth, the lying about Admiral Fiske's recommendations and the repeated gratifying of personal grudges, the mere contemplation of Josephus Daniels being vested with this tremendous power incites a feeling little short of horror.

And yet here we are, giving of our incomes in unstinted measure to insure the protection of our homes in the face of this virtual certainty in the event of Mr. Wilson's re-election. Mr. Daniels continues to be consulted "in intimate fashion"; so far as known, he still holds his chief's confidence and admiration; he was the President's representative in St. Louis, his spokesman in Maine and his apologist for the result; Mr. Wilson's vindication at the polls would be his vindication and the reward of retention could not be denied him after the country had rendered its verdict with full knowledge that—

"A vote for Wilson is a vote for Daniels."

Despite the surpassing mental and moral excellence of the new Secretary of War as contrasted with his colleague, the army situation is even more discouraging than that of the navy. While it is well within the range of possibility that the President could have obtained more promising legislation if he had stood squarely by his pledge to Secretary Garrison, there is much to be said in extenuation of his abrupt reversal of position. Undeniably the Democratic majority in Congress was more strongly opposed to the Continental Army plan than to any proposal theretofore enforced upon them by the Executive. It is indeed doubtful whether their acknowledged leader, the unjustly abused Mr. Hay, even if he had been willing to make the attempt, could have fished them into line. If the President, instead of twisting and squirming and vainly trying to becloud the issue to save his face as Master, had frankly admitted that he was unable to secure what he thought was best and must perforce accept what he could get, the country would have held him, if not his party, blameless. But the fateful compromise followed and the outcome was the inevitable hodgepodge, whose sole merit is a trifling theoretical increase in the Regular Army, which has not yet been and seems not likely soon to be realized.

Failure of Army Bill.

The plain fact is that the amorphous scheme of "federalizing the militia" has already proved abortive. It is hardly conceivable that even the huge sums of money allotted to the State organizations, only to be squandered in profligate fashion, as indicated by the records of previous expenditures under the Dick bill, submitted with telling force by Senator Borah, could have produced so much as a semblance of success. But if anything were needed to affix the finality of failure at the outset, it quickly appeared in the blundering of the War Department's call to arms which convinced every guardsman sent to the border that he had been tricked into an enlistment which he had never intended to make. The immediate effect is already seen in the impossibility of filling militia companies and the ultimate outcome, in all probability, will be the doom of the very National Guard which the ill-fated measure was designed to exalt and perpetuate.

Here, then beyond question to our mind, as the direct consequence of bootless muddling, is the most difficult problem confronting the incoming administration. And yet, if all the advantage of adequate appropriations already obtained is not to be sacrificed and all hope of True Preparedness is not to be abandoned, it must be solved. Who can do it? Not a Democratic Congress surely, and not a Democratic president, both of whom are committed to the present abortion and would undoubtedly insist on a long period of futile trying-out. The Republican party has at least the advantage of a clean slate, freedom of action, immunity from prejudice against real federalization of armed forces and the declared opposition of Mr. Hughes to the existing makeshift.

The Industrial Warfare.

While some—not including ourselves—may agree with the President that we are "not interested in the causes" of the great conflict now being waged for human liberty and personal freedom none can have the hardihood to deny that we are most deeply concerned in the industrial warfare that is bound to follow. Already, following the Paris conference initiated by England, the Allies are formulating plans, not merely for mutual trade intercourse but to possess the markets of the world. Ostensibly the far-reaching scheme being formulated is, in the succinct words of the London Chamber of Commerce, "for regulating, by tariff and otherwise, trade relations with all enemy countries so as to render impossible a return to pre-war conditions and for stimulating the development of home manufactures and consequent increased employment of native labor"; but while only "enemy countries" are referred to, it is an open secret that neutral nations are to be placed in the same category. No hint of reciprocity except between the Allied Powers themselves appears in the

36th Anniversary Sale

PHELPS & OSBORNE

36th Anniversary Sale

THIRTY--SIXTH ANNIVERSARY SALE

Began Thursday Morning, September 28th, at 9:00 O'clock, Ends Saturday Night, October 7th, at 9:00 O'clock.

The reputation of the Phelps & Osborne Anniversary Sale is country wide. All Jacksonville awaits it. Thousands come from the surrounding territory and towns; all know that the newest and most dependable merchandise of every description can be bought during this sale at the lowest prices for dependable merchandise. Prices quoted in this sale are much lower than the cost to manufacture at the present cost of material. Having this sale in view we made purchases before the advance in prices for your especial benefit. What This Sale Means to You—The far reaching importance of this event is far beyond the imagination of the average individual; ten departments, representing every class and character of general merchandise are combined for the purpose of holding a bargain carnival of the greatest magnitude. 'Why Such Low Prices?' you ask. We are frank to admit that this is not a money-making sale; we sacrifice the profits down to below the cost of doing business. The results to be obtained justify these concessions on our part, for we secure friendship and constant patronage. Look for the Anniversary Sale Tickets on the merchandise, from the the basement to the third floor. They will be found in every department and in every instance you will find the price much lower than the same merchandise will cost you when the sale is over.

CLARENCE S. PAINE HAD NOTABLE
BUSINESS AND PUBLIC CAREER

Mississippi Valley Historical Review Pays Tribute to His Work as a Public-Spirited Citizen.

The September, 1916, number of the Mississippi Valley Historical Review had the following devoted tribute to Mr. C. S. Paine, whose wife was Miss Clara Sibley before her marriage:

"The Mississippi Valley Historical association suffered its greatest loss on June 14, 1916, in the death of Mr. Clarence S. Paine, the secretary-treasurer of the association.

Mr. Paine was born in Eden Prairie township, Minn., on June 11, 1867. The years of his early manhood were spent in the lumber camps and on the farms of that state. Later his interests turned to business pursuits in preparation for which he attended school for a time in Minneapolis and also completed a business college course. Locating at Boone, Iowa, he established a business college. It was during the period of his residence in Iowa that his interest in state and local history was aroused. In 1897 he removed to Nebraska and ten years later was elected secretary of the Nebraska State Historical society. From that time until the day of his death he was the center of all the movements connected in any way with the preservation of the history of Nebraska.

Mr. Paine's enthusiasm for the cause of history, however, extended beyond the boundaries of the state of his adoption. It was he who in 1907 issued the call for the meeting at Lincoln which finally resulted in the formation of the Mississippi Historical association. Not only did his infectious confidence of success lead to the organization of the association, but throughout the nine years of its existence his never-failing optimism and his tireless, unselfish labors as secretary have been the most potent factors in promoting its growth and placing it upon a firm foundation.

Mr. Paine's presence, his spirit of intense loyalty and his annual reports, so full of encouragement, will be sorely missed at the meetings of the association. He will always be held in grateful remembrance by those who have at heart the cause of history in the Mississippi valley.

Mr. Paine married Miss Clara Sibley, daughter of the late George and Mrs. Sibley, of Jacksonville, and Mrs. Paine's friends here will sympathize with her in the loss of her husband.

Mr. Paine had visited here, and it is believed he was in this place when he made his acquaintance.

MONTH END CLOSING OUT OF CONTRACTS LOWERS WHEAT

Latest Quotations are Unsettled at 1/2 To 2/3 Cents Decline—Corn Reflects Action of Wheat.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 30.—Notwithstanding that adverse crop reports from Argentina today made wheat prices during most of the session decidedly higher, month-end closing out of contracts resulted in a sharp setback just before the finish. Latest quotations were unsettled at 1/2 to 2/3 cent net decline with December at $1.54 and May at $1.53. Corn closed unchanged to 1/4 at 3/4 down; oats 1/4 off to 3/4 advance and provisions varying from 4 1/2 to a rise of 4 1/2.

Argentine advices regarding drought were more bullish than ever, and the wheat market here showed a consequent quick upturn in values as soon as trading began. Belated holders, instead of the shorts were the real sufferers in the final adjustments of Sept. wheat contracts.

Corn reflected the action of wheat. Changes in price though were comparatively slight and the bears had a little advantage owing to improved weather for curing the new crop. Oats trading consisted almost entirely of transfers from nearby deliveries. Late months accordingly were somewhat under pressure. Provisions were notably irregular. Lower quotations on hogs depressed the distant months but shorts bid up September and October options especially in pork and ribs.

The Illinois College Chorus will hold its first rehearsal next Monday evening, October 2nd, in Recital Hall at 7 o'clock. The work to be sung this year is the well-known comic opera by Planquette, "The Chimes of Normandy," whose presentation is planned for the late winter with scenery and costume.

Last Wednesday evening the Conservatory Orchestra, under Mr. Krutch, held its first meeting with most of the old members of the orchestra present, and some newly added ones. Mozart's Overture to "Figaro's Marriage" was practiced, and later on Beethoven's First Symphony will be put under rehearsal.

Miss Dorothy Hittie sang a solo at the meeting of the Morgan county Teachers' Association on Saturday afternoon, September 30th.

Mrs. Wilson who has charge of the music at the Christian Church will present some of her students in a ladies' quartet Sunday evening, October 1st. Misses Dorothy Hittie, Fern Haigh, Lorraine Dewesse and Miss Carlson will sing.

The Phi Omega society held its first meeting last Friday, Sept. 29, and added some new students to its membership. The next regular meeting will be on Monday, October 16.

The Chevrolet 490

Seeing is believing. So let us show you the biggest value ever presented to the public in a real Automobile

The Automobile of Real Merit!

Study a Few Facts Known to Chevrolet Users

The Motor

Valve in head type.

Different from ordinary valve in head motors. It has a detachable head which contains all valve mechanism that can be easily disconnected, permitting the grinding of valves and removal of carbon at the bench.

Different in design, balance, proportion, and accuracy of timing, resulting in a motor with more power for its size and weight than any motor in the world. Different in that it has a very much smaller cylinder bore, but with proper port areas, perfect vaporizing of fuel, and our peculiar method of vacuum exhaust, we obtain an average of better than twenty-five miles per gallon of gasoline.

Different in that it has the utmost accessibility to all parts and is very simple.

The Brakes

Your special attention is called to the extra liberal construction of the brakes as used on the "Four-Ninety" (Patent pending). No expense has been spared in this very necessary protection to life and limb. Many higher priced cars do not have as large and generous braking surface; and none at this price. By special brake arrangement (patent pending) which insure powerful, quick acting and smooth brakes. The emergency brake is internal expanding. The Service brake external contracting.

The Axle

Axle shafts are made of the best chrome nickel steel, properly heat-treated. The same can also be said of the bevel ring and pinion. We have allowed a very liberal margin of safety in these important items. We kindly ask you to compare them with any car made selling at a like price or higher.

The Transmission

Is of the selective type, three speeds forward and reverse. Is practically noiseless. All gears are made of nickel steel, heat-treated in oil. Shafts and bearings are very liberal, the shifting device positive and easy to operate. The transmission is designed to handle the car with a liberal factor. Compare carefully and you will find this type and grade is not usually found in this price car.

The Springs

In addition to easy riding and comfort, proper spring suspension also means economy. If your car has proper spring suspension it is easy on the tires and means more tire mileage. Our spring suspension does this. The springs are made of chrome vanadium steel, are very long and are the Cantilever suspension or quarter elliptic type.

The Body

The body is of the streamline type with deep cowl, extra wide doors, flush sides, concealed hinges. Very wide comfortable seats and spacious leg room.

The Fenders

The fenders are crowned, fully enclosed at front and rear wheels and body joined by running board. Extra stiff and substantially braced, the running board is covered with linoleum and aluminum bound.

The Equipment

Mohair tailored top. Top cover and side curtains. Electric horn, ventilating rain vision wind shield, electric lights and starter with storage battery (Willard). Speedometer, jack, pump, and full set tools. The only complete car made for $490 f. o. b. Flint, Mich.

MRS. MAY'S LETTER to WOMEN

More Proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieves Suffering.

Chicago, Ill.—"I suffered from a bad case of female ills. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended and I took about six bottles. It fixed me up all right. The common symptoms of such a condition—pain when walking, irritation, bearing down pains and backache, nervousness and disordered digestion—soon passed away. I look much better now than I did before, and I recommend the Compound every time for female troubles, as it did for me all it is claimed to do. You have my permission to publish this letter." Mrs. J. MAY, 3548 S. Lincoln St., Chicago, Ill.

If you have any of the symptoms mentioned in Mrs. May's letter, remember what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for her, and try it yourself. It is a good old-fashioned medicine, made from roots and herbs, and it has helped countless numbers of women.

If you need special advice, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (Confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

COL. HARVEY COMES OUT FOR CANDIDATE HUGHES

proposals and no doubt exists of their intent to abrogate all "favorable" treaties which conflict with their purpose to bind their material interests together with hooks of steel. Competition, especially American competition, is to be barred to the limit of possibility by the Allies and no less surely, in mere self defense, by the Central Powers, to the end that the United States shall be "isolated" as completely as the President himself when an international problem presses for solution. In a word, the world proposes to pay its debts to America at the end of the war, not in money, but in products manufactured at low cost of labor with the greater efficiency developed by military training.

The Tariff Commission. What this may mean to American manufacturers, to American workmen and even to American farmers, is so patent that explication is quite unnecessary. The Democratic party recognized the imminence of the menace when, flatly avowing its established policy, it created a Tariff Commission to "study every economic fact that may throw light on changing conditions" with a view to increasing the duties now prevailing under "the best tariff law ever enacted" and constructing schedules based, not upon revenue needs, but upon conditions of production and competition at home and abroad and when the President, completely reversing his previous position as defined in his letter to ex-Governor Cox of Ohio and in his sarcastic boasting at Indianapolis of having "put one over" on the Republicans, supplemented in his speech of acceptance the declaration of his own platform with the sage observation that "we can no longer indulge our traditional provincialism." Mr. Hughes, meanwhile, is really convincing in his insistence that the only way to meet protection is with protection.

The pressing question is, which of the two parties is the better equipped to meet the situation? And we fear there can be but one answer. Seven of the fourteen Democratic members of the present committee on Ways and Means hail from North Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Georgia, Missouri, Arkansas and Mississippi; former Chairman Underwood, a revenue-tariff man of moderate views, has been succeeded by Claude Kitchin, a free trader, and the manufacturing States of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and Massachusetts have in a Mr. Conry, of Tammany Hall, their sole spokesman and representative. It is no disparagement of these Southern gentlemen to say that their unfamiliarity with the mighty industrial affairs of this great manufacturing region which few, if any of them, have even visited, disqualifies them for intelligent handling upon broad and effective lines of the critical situation which is being thrust upon us. Moreover, the traditions and prejudices of all save a very few Democratic Senators and Congressmen are so strongly opposed to protection as "robbery of the many for the benefit of the few" that it was with the greatest reluctance that they passed even a ridiculously ineffectual "anti-dumping" law. While tacitly conceding the need of protective measures, they have only pecked at the problem for political purposes, without attempting in any serious way to effect a solution. Again we are driven to the practical conclusion that true Industrial Preparedness, in common with true Military Preparedness, can be attained only through its sincere advocates and consistent friends.

Government for and By the People. Since Fort Sumter was fired upon there has been no such assault upon the right of the American people to rule themselves as that of the four Brotherhoods at Washington in August of the present year. Then, as in '61, government by a majority for the whole people was openly threatened by a self-constituted oligarchy. And the cases are not dissimilar. Fifty-five years ago the Union was confronted by the grim specters of Secession and Segregation. Last month it was the Union, backed to the wall, but with this difference in result: Anderson resisted to the limit of endurance; Wilson yielded without a struggle.

The way was paved for the blackmailing of the Nation by the President himself, at the instigation of Mr. Samuel Gompers, at the very beginning of his administration, when he approved what he himself pronounced an "unjustifiable" provision forbidding the use of certain specific funds in the prosecution of labor organizations for breaking the law. And the exemption was made direct and complete by the President's own Clayton Act, which expressly provided that no such organizations should "be held or constrained to be illegal combinations or conspiracies in restraint of trade under the anti-trust laws." But for the existence of this invidiously discriminatory act the Brotherhoods would not have dared to invite the criminal prosecution provided for all other offenders. Sheltered by it, they only bided their time until the eve of a Presidential election and then held the gun of calamity at the head of the Nation. They did not so seriously menace the railway companies, which had only revenues to lose and properties to damage; they threatened the people, all of the helpless and unoffending people in every city and hamlet in the land, with hunger or starvation unless within a fortnight the Government should impose upon their employers under the specious and false guise of an "eight-hour day" which they themselves would not accept, an increase of twenty-five per cent in wages.

The President, having intervened unavailingly, recounted the proceedings in his address to Congress. Although the matter had "been agitated for more than a year," there had arisen a "sudden crisis" and "the country had been caught unprovided with any practical means of enforcing" arbitration, "by whose fault" he would "not now stop to inquire." The railway companies were not only willing to accept but voluntarily "proposed" that the demands of the men be submitted in their entirety to arbitration, "but the men absolutely declined arbitration" and a strike had been ordered for September 4.

Personally he would "yield to no man in firm adherence, alike of conviction and of purpose, to the principle of arbitration," but he said no word in criticism of the Brotherhoods for rejecting the principle and paradoxically rebuked the companies for declining a settlement which, in his judgment, they would ultimately "be obliged to accept by concerted action of organized labor backed by the favorable judgment of society" and which "would engage all the forces of justice, public and private, on their side to take care of the events," i. e., to increase the freight rates, "for which, of course, the public would pay." To this end he besought the "explicit approval of Congress of the consideration by the Interstate Commerce Commission of an increase of freight rates" and "immediate provision for the enlargement of the commission," ostensibly to facilitate its work but really to enable him to pack the court.

Four parties to the proposed settlement were involved: the railway companies, the labor unions and the shippers, represented by their respective officials, and the people, represented by their President. And it was he, the President of the United States, who deliberately proposed the mulcting of the great body of his own constituency, the millions of lowpaid workmen, farmers, professional men, teachers, clerks, saleswomen and toilers in sweatshops no less than the well-to-do, in the interest, not even of a class, but of a class within a class, comprising four hundred thousand voters, without cost to the companies or to the shippers who were to comprise the other parties to the conspiracy. "The public," sentimentally remarked Mr. A. B. Garretson, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Conductors, "is the carcass and we all perhaps are the vultures." And Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, by his act endorsed the cynical assertion. * * *

What Hughes Would Have Done. But "what would Hughes have done?" What did he do when as governor of New York he was confronted by a like situation—when the Legislature, truckling to the populist spirit of the time, enacted a two-cent railway fare law, precisely as the Wilson-Adamson wage-increase measure was passed, without investigation or consideration of its justice? He vetoed the bill and said:

"The passage of the bill was not preceded by legislative investigation or suitable inquiry under the authority of the State. Nor is the fixing of this rate predicated on reports of statistics officially collated which would permit a fair conclusion as to the justice of its operation with reference to the railroads within its purview. It plainly reflects dissatisfaction with existing conditions and an effort to provide a remedy through arbitrary action. I do not mean to be understood as saying that a maximum of 2-cent passenger rate would unreasonably low. It might be high enough in many cases. Possibly it would be high enough in all cases. I fully appreciate the fact that those who have promoted this bill believe that such a rate would be fair. But I deem it most important that the policy of dealing with matters of this sort arbitrarily, by legislative resort to general application without reference to the demands of justice in particular cases, should be condemned. Every workingman, every tradesman, and every citizen believing himself to have aught at stake in the prosperity of the country, should determinedly oppose it. For it not only threatens the stability of business enterprise which makes our prosperity possible, but it substitutes unreason for sound judgment, the ill-considered demands of resentment for the spirit of fair play, and makes impossible patient and honorable effort to correct abuses.

"I would rather be beaten for president a thousand times," he has since said, "than ignore or attempt to evade such an issue involving the very existence of popular government or seem to acquiesce for taken in such action as that taken in Washington."

He might have added, as he did say publicly when told that his veto of the two-cent fare bill would lose thousands of votes:

"If our education and our training mean anything, they mean that, while we are rigorous in insisting upon the performance of the public duty, we shall be equally rigorous in the demand for justice to all, and will not allow administration to be perverted, even to so-called popular ends, even at the risk of loss of votes, if, in fact, the proposal is unsound and unjust."

What Hughes "would have done" or what he will do if occasion shall arise ought now to be clear because—and this fact should be borne constantly in mind—Hughes always means what he says.

Proof of this statement is to be found in the record. When nominated for Governor in 1909, Governor Hughes promised that "every measure proposed on behalf of labor" should have "serious and sympathetic consideration" because "the welfare of the toiling masses is of the deepest concern to all."

For President.

ed to the best of our ability must be added another: National honor and opportunity. We shall not recount the many episodes of the past three years which have flushed the cheeks of our countrymen with shame and humiliation. It suffices to say in bitter truth that no longer can an American stand erect before any tribunal in the world, as Paul stood Pilate, and declare with pride and confidence his citizenship. Not only has the protection of the flag been officially withdrawn from those who have crossed the border line, but the flag itself has been wantonly desecrated over and over again without incurring the swift retribution which invariably hitherto from the beginning of the Republic has been visited upon offenders. It remains only to note the futility even of hope that the policy of pusillanimity initiated by itself may be reversed by this administration and to herald with gratification and gratitude the dependable assurance of Mr. Hughes that he stands with no less steadfastness for American rights abroad than for equal rights at home. And here again we assert, indeed, we cannot reiterate too frequently or too significantly—what every American knows and what every foreigner will quickly learn—that Hughes always means what he says.

President Wilson voices the spirit of America, when he craves for our Government an opportunity to render unselfish service to mankind by helping to reestablish peace throughout the world. "We," he says truly, are the natural and logical "mediating nation" and it behooves us to "get ready to help both sides when the struggle is over" since, as he inquires, "It is not likely that the warring nations will some day turn to us for cooler assessment of the elements engaged." And, while granting his premises as of ordinary times the certain answer is, Not while he is President.

It is no disparagement of Mr. Wilson to say (whatever may be thought of his unenviable position at home) that he has no friends abroad. But even though his misfortune be one of uncontrollable circumstance rather than of wavering ineptitude, the fact exists and must be reckoned with, that in all Europe he is the one most mistrusted and contemned of men, whose tender of aid in the name of justice, fairness and humanity would be rejected unanimously with derision and scorn.

As a purely practical matter, then, if we would indeed serve mankind, we may not disregard the vital consideration that the way of opportunity is barred to Mr. Wilson and is wide open to Mr. Hughes, who in consequence of his previous immolation stands alone among our public men as uncommitted and unsuspected and who is known to the outside world only as a great and just Judge versed in the affairs of nations and alive to the needs of human kind.

Such are the living issues as we perceive them. Of the personal attributes and characteristics of the respective candidates it is not necessary now and may not become necessary at all to speak, further than to say plainly that the utter absence of self-seeking on the part of Mr. Hughes throughout his entire career confirms the belief that he does in fact, from the very nature of his being, stand for America first, while no less surely and most disappointingly the happenings of the past two years, culminating in the betrayal of his country for the gratification of personal ambition, prove incontrovertibly that Mr. Wilson stands for Wilson first.

There is no need to seek a conclusion. It finds itself. Upon the clearly marked issues and as between the candidates, there is no reason why any professed Republican, and thoughtful Progressive or any principled Democrat should not and every reason why every patriotic American should, vote—

For President,

RECREATION CONGRESS WILL OPEN IN GRAND RAPIDS THIS WEEK

Themes Will be of Interest to All Engaged in Play Ground Branch
of Welfare Work

Pittsburgh will send twenty-five playground leaders in its delegation to the Recreation Congress at Grand Rapids, Michigan, October 2 to 6; Kalamazoo is sending twenty workers. These are typical reports indicating the interest which is manifest throughout America, including Canada, among men and women who are working for the invigoration of American life through vital, constructive uses of leisure time.

From Los Angeles, California, Mr. C. E. Raitt has agreed to come to the Recreation Congress to answer questions about the use and misuse of playground "Apparatus." Mr. Raitt is reputed to be a national authority on the subject.

Harold O. Berg, who has had a wonderful experience in developing the wider uses of the public schools of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, will answer questions concerning "Neighborhood and Community Centers" in school building and elsewhere.

Some of the Themes
Chicago which leads the world in its small-park playgrounds will send John R. Richards superintendent of sports and playgrounds in Chicago's marvelous South Side Park System. He will lead in the discussion of "Ways and Means." As Chicago is reported to have spent over fifteen million dollars in playgrounds Superintendent Richards should be able to advise other cities as to how their recreation movements may be financed.

From Oakland California, George E. Dickie comes to lead the discussion of "Games and Contests."

"Recreation Buildings" will be studied under the leadership of Sidney A. Teller of the West Side Park System of Chicago.

Detroit's rapid progress in recreation, together with the generous financial support which Detroit's city government has given to its recreation department, will add weight to Mr. Ira W. Jaynes' leadership in the discussion of "Recreation Budgets."

In the light of his experience as a play leader in Chicago, Los Angeles, and Grand Rapids, Michigan, Mr. Charles H. Mills, Director of Recreation in Grand Rapids, will lead the discussion of "Adult Recreation Problems."

Many of those who plan to attend the Recreation Congress have expressed their concern about political interference in municipal recreation systems. Superintendent W. F. Ashe of Pittsburgh, who knows whereof he speaks, is responsible for the frank discussion of "Politics."

Professor and Mrs. Clark W. Hetherington, together, will tell of the unique "Play School" which they developed at the University of California.

Representing the famous Social Settlement, "Hiram House," of Cleveland, Ohio, Mr. George A. Bellamy will conduct the discussion of "Group Organization."

Free Discussion Sought

To avoid formal orations by these experts and by the others who will take part in the Recreation Congress questions have been collected during the past five months from recreation leaders throughout America. They have sent in all the practical, searching questions, covering all the varied, vexing problems which the recreation movement presents in various communities. It is to be the detailed, practical answering of these difficult concrete questions that the experts will be held throughout the morning sessions of the Congress.

For the large, popular evening meetings, speakers of national reputation have been enlisted. Motion pictures of playground activities have been taken for the Congress. Demonstrations of recreational activities will be given. Delegates will also "take some of their own medicine" by having plays and games of their own in the intervals between strenuous meetings.

All people interested in the invigoration of American life through wholesome leisure time activities are invited to attend the Recreation Congress. Information may be had from the Playground and Recreation Association of America, 1 Madison Avenue, New York City.

"My, Isn't This a Splendid Light!"

It was evening and Mrs. Benton has just snapped on the electric light in the library.

"And it's so convenient, too—you can turn it on and off in a second anywhere in the house."

"Yes, and another thing," replied Mr. Benton, "it permits of such economy. If you leave a room for even a few minutes, you don't hesitate to turn it out because you know that a snap of the button and it's on again."

"I'm so glad we've had our house wired at last," continued Mrs. Benton. "We use to think that we couldn't afford Electric Service, but really, after we know what it means to the home, we wouldn't think of being without it. And electric light is only one of the many conveniences that we have at our disposal—since we've had our house wired."

(We wouldn't be surprised to see Mrs. Benton get an electric washing machine before long, or a percolator, toaster, egg boiler etc. Watch this space Tuesday morning.)
